A Plea For Good Roads.

Discussing the importance of good roads Editor Ed D. Shinnick says in the Shelbyville Record:

"What makes a farm valuable? Don't good roads between it and the markets and accessibility to churches and schools have more to do with the adding of value to it than anything else? The fertility of the soil is not the only thing that a prospective purchaser takes into consideration. Don't all of us know of farms that are not adjacent to good roads, churches, schools and the county seat that will produce twice as much per acre as desirably located farms that will sell for two or three times as many dollars per acre? Good roads make the churches, schools and markets more accessible. Then why should anyone hesitate to do what they can for the construction and maintenance of the public highways?"

KENTUCKY'S BIG GAIN IN HER COAL OUTPUT

That For 1913 Was 19,421,288

Tons—A Gain Of 3,000, 000 Tons.

Lexington, Ky., July 3.—While all of the details of the report of C. J. Norwood, Chief Inspector of Mines, of coal mine operations in Kentucky for 1913 are not quite finished, the completed figures show a gain of more than 3,000,000 tons in the coal output of 1913 over that of 1912 in this State. The total output for 1913 amounted to 19,421,288 tons. This refers only to what are known as "commercial" mines, the aggregates being made up from monthly reports received by the Chief Inspector from coal companies throughout the year.

Up to 1911 the annual production of the western field exceeded that of the eastern one, but in that year the output of the eastern field passed that of the western and the annual excess has grown rapidly. In 1911 the excess for the eastern field was 5,729 tons; in 1912 it was 732,096 tons, and in 1913 it was 2,548,978 tons. The prospect is that within another five years the output of the eastern field alone will exceed the total production for the entire State.

There are now approximately 32,000 persons employed at and in the coal mines. The number so employed during 1913 was 29,335.

A summary of the details of production, number of employees, selling values according to districts, days worked, accidents, etc., for 1913 will be ready for distribution in a few days.

The commercial output has almost doubled within the last five years, the gain for 1913 over the output for 1909 being 9,125,143 tons.

INFANT SENT BY MAIL
FOR SEVENTEEN CENTS

Laporte, Ind., July 3.—What is believed to be the first use of the parcel post in Indiana for the sending of a child by mail developed at the Laporte post-office late this morning when a boy 2 years old, properly stamped, 17 cents being the amount expended, was received consigned to Henry Euler, of this city, who recently separated from his wife. Both he and his wife have been fighting for the custody of the child.

The mother, who moved from Laporte to Stillwell, finally decided to give the child to the father, and, taking the child to the post-office, paid the postage required and delivered the infant into the custody of the mail carrier.

With the child's clothing, on which seven cents postage was paid, the mother spent a total of 24 cents in sending the babe by mail to the father.

NEW ACCOUNT OF THE FALL OF MAN

Wins O. K. From Pennsylvania Seers.

NOAH, NOT ADAM, RESPONSIBLE
SAYS PROF. LANGDON, AND UN-IVERSITY OFFICIALS CON-FIRM HIS IDEAS.

WRITTEN ON ANCIENT TABLETS

Philadelphia, Penn., July 3.—Officials of the University of Pennsylvania Museum have confirmed the announcement by Prof. Stephen Langdon in London recently that Noah and not Adam was responsible for the fall of man as shown in his readings of Babylonian tablets unearthed at Nippur.

Dr. Langdon, who is an American, was in this country last October and visited the University of Pennsylvania Museum where he made copies of about 50 of the Nippur tablets in the museum's collection.

What makes the new account of the fall of man especially interesting and important is that it is not like other versions, written in the Semitic Babylonian language, but in the Sumerian, the older tongue of the non-Semitic race, which in the early days of history held sway over Babylonia.

By comparison with other tablets written in the time of King Hammurabi, the date of whose reign is definitely known, the tablet from which Dr. Langdon made his translation probably was written about 2500 B. C., making it the oldest record known at present of the creation, the fall of man and the deluge.

Examination shows that the fragment of tablet translated by Dr. Langdon and the tablet translated by Dr. Poebel were separate, and that with other tablets they contained the full story of the beginning of the world.

Dr. Langdon is easily the foremost Sumerian scholar in the world. Dr. Poebel is an able translator of the language, and both he and Dr. Langdon will give their full translations of such portions of the tablets as exist to the public in book form within a short time.

Whether our Bible as we have it to-day will have to be rewritten is a question. Whether the Hebrew writers got their ideas from the Sumerians and Babylonians or only through direct revelation is a subject concerning which theologians do not agree.

The Two Voices.

Gen. Funston, over the pink ice that finished a luncheon in Vera Cruz, said of war.

"War is horrible, and the world will be a happier place when universal peace obtains."

There are two ideas of war, the romantic and the realistic. Both ideas were well voiced by Bill.

"Every time I see grandfather's sword and medals," said Bill, "I long to take part in a universal war."

"Then, in an afterthought, voicing now the realistic idea, Bill said:

"But every time I look at grandfather's wooden leg, I long for the advent of universal peace."

Best works are performed not by strength but by perseverance.—

MAN WHO KILLED CHIEF TECUMSEH

Still a Matter Of Considerable Dispute.

LOUISVILLE MAN IS CREDITED

With Shot That Got Old War
Horse—Others Say It Was Another.

A VERY REMARKABLE INDIAN

Oklahoma City, July 4.—The renewal of the controversy as to who killed Tecumseh, the famous Indian war chief, recalls the fact that Tecumseh visited Oklahoma when he was trying to organize his vast confederation, embracing all of the Indian tribes of the Great Lakes, Mississippi Valley and Gulf Coast regions, with which he was endeavoring to check the onward march of the whites and to prevent the establishment of any further white settlements in the Middle West.

It was in the spring of 1811 that Tecumseh came to the village of the Osage chief, Clermont, near the historic Claremore mound, in Rogers county, Oklahoma. He was accompanied by his brother, "the Prophet."

The latter is described as having been a man of commanding presence and an eloquent orator, yet so profound was the impression made upon the Osages by the words of Tecumseh that they scarcely noticed his brother, "the Prophet," at all.

Tecumseh was an impassioned orator, and it was reported at the time that the natural sympathies of the Osages went out to him. However, all of their dealings had been with the French traders from St. Louis, by whom they had always been kindly treated. Those traders were all loyal Americans at that time, so that the weight of their influence was against Tecumseh and his ambitious designs. The Osages, therefore, declined to join Tecumseh.

Tecumseh was probably the most remarkable Indian of whom history takes account. His twin brother, "the Prophet," whose name was Tensquatawa, claimed to have been inspired by a message from the Master of Life, in which all of the Indians were directed to band themselves together to resist the further advance of white settlements. Tecumseh not only believed and adopted his brother's teachings, but his own magnetic and persuasive eloquence gave to them an added force and influence.

Tecumseh always disputed the validity of the treaties by which the Government had purchased the land of Ohio and Indiana from the Indians. He claimed that they were not binding upon the Indians for the reason that only the chiefs had entered into such agreements, the warriors not being consulted at all, having thus advocated the doctrine of a practical referendum long before the white men of America ever dreamed of such a system.

The Battle of Tippecanoe, which occurred about six months after Tecumseh's visit to the Osages, really spoiled all of his plans for a confederation of the Indian tribes. He continued to labor for that end until the outbreak of the War of 1812, when he espoused the cause of the British and was commissioned a Brigadier General in the army of King George. His career ended with his death at the Battle of the Thames, when he was still in the prime of life, being then about 45 years old.

Col. R. M. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., has always been given the credit for killing Tecumseh, and was elected Vice President of the United States in 1836 largely on the strength of that record, but the claim is now disputed by Dr. R. I. Spurr, of Lexington, Ky., who says that according to the story told by his uncle, Richard Spurr, a survivor of the famous battle, it was Col. William Whitley and not Col. Johnson who killed Tecumseh. The elder Spurr and Col. Whitley were members of a party of volunteers detailed to start the Indians out of the woods. In a hand-to-hand combat Whitley killed two Indians, being killed by the second one, who shot just as he did. Spurr later recovered Whitley's body and also took in the bodies of the two Indians he killed. The second one, he said, was identified by Gen. Harrison, who knew him well, as being that of Tecumseh.

Tecumseh's name is preserved in Oklahoma in the name of the county seat of Pottawatomie county, where a band of Shawnee Indians, led by Tecumseh's grandson, Wapameepeo, better known in Oklahoma as Big Jim, lived many years.

Qualifications of Voters.

The direct primary law as amended by the last Legislature has a drastic provision affecting the qualifications of voters, the purpose being to prevent the voters of one party from participating in the primary of another party, as was an easy thing before the law was amended. The law now strictly defines the qualifications of a voter. He must be a member of the party for whose nominees he intends to vote and shall have affiliated with that party." It says "no person shall be deemed to have affiliated with the party for whose nominees he intends to cast his vote if he voted against the nominee or nominees of such party at the last general election."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Congress.

Of Bardstown, for re-election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary, August 1, 1914.

We are authorized to announce
MR. JOHN W. BOYD.

Of Elizabethtown, for election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary, August 1, 1914.

It looks like lots of women folks are trying to "outstrip" each other in dress styles nowadays.

West Virginia is now strictly in the prohibition line and all the beer its citizens are supposed to get will be made from the hops of toad frogs.

The principal reason that Col. Roosevelt does not like President Wilson's administration is that it is so much unlike the Rough Rider's—and so much better.

There is nobody who feels the effects of ingratitude more keenly than the newspaper editor in the matter of politics. He may "whoop it up" for his party and its candidates for years, loyally and freely, only to find it often the case that some candidates, after being elected, seem to think that they owe nothing in return, in the way of favors or thanks, to the one who gave them the most individual aid in attaining their position. Ingratitude is just as blamable, just as glaring and inexcusable in politics as it is in the every-day affairs of life.

A crowd of suffragists recently called upon President Wilson and implored him to espouse their cause. The President, feeling that as the head of a great nation of people, he could not consistently commit himself to a matter over which there is much discussion nowadays, simply told them that it is a State and not a federal issue—which it is—and advised them to go ahead along proper lines. He acquitted himself manfully and at the same time did not offend the leaders of this great cause, which is growing stronger every day.

The Owensboro Inquirer calls attention to the fact that "There is a law, now operative in Kentucky, which makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $200 to $1,000 or confinement in the county jail from 20 to 100 days, or both, in the discretion of the court, for any person to wilfully or maliciously circulate a false statement or rumor which is directly or by inference derogatory to, or in any way affects, the standing of a bank." There is also a law to about the same effect in regard to persons, in place of banks, but there seems to be no way to effectively choke off the gossip.

HIS MIND WAS RUINED
BY A BIG CASH AWARD

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—"Red" Russell, the most picturesque character in Atlanta, to-day was adjudged to be insane and sent to the State Asylum.

"Red" lost both legs at the knee when working for a railroad. He sued, and last year was awarded $14,000. Then he began to spend. His first purchases were a red automobile and a pair of costly artificial legs. A good part of his fortune was spent in paying police fines for speeding.

In six months he was broke. The only thing he had to show was the pair of cork legs. And he pawned the legs when in straits.

Lately his mind began to fail, and a jury to-day declared him to be insane.

WILL PROBE INSURANCE
SITUATION IN STATE

Frankfort, Ky., July 4.—After organizing by electing Henry Barrett, of Henderson, chairman, and George L. Payne, of Frankfort, secretary, the Commission appointed in accordance with the compromise agreement between the fire insurance companies and the State rating board, took steps to secure written data and will begin active investigation of the insurance situation in Kentucky early in the fall.

The rating board to-day issued an amended schedule in conformity with the agreement and incidentally calls the attention of agents to the clause in the agreement whereby dwelling rates not re-rated under the 1913 schedule are to take a ten per cent. reduction from rate in existence prior to May 1, 1913.

Our city is beginning to put on airs. Many people standing on the walk in front of our two dry goods stores lit up with electricity, say it looks like Louisville Fourth street houses.

MORGAN HAS TALK
WITH PRESIDENTDiscuss General Business Conditions.CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS TO HAVE
Series of Informal Meetings
With Country's Big Men Soon.

THEY WILL EXCHANGE VIEWS

Washington, July 4.—J. P. Morgan and President Wilson had nearly an hour's conference at the White House on general business conditions.

It was the first case of a series of talks the President plans to have in the near future with captains of industry and finance, learning their views and giving his own on the industrial and financial situation of the country as well as measures in Congress.

White House officials said the conference between the President and Mr. Morgan had been just a friendly discussion of the general subject.

Mr. Morgan refused to disclose what had taken place.

"There is absolutely nothing we can say," said he.

Under a running fire of questions as he passed through the door of the executive offices, Mr. Morgan only shook his head and smiled. As he stepped into his carriage he said:

"My visit with the President was very cordial. You will have to ask him what we talked about."

President Wilson told inquirers later that in his talk with Mr. Morgan, business conditions generally had been discussed and that Mr. Morgan had expressed no opinion of whether business was good or bad.

He added that he had known Mr. Morgan a long time and that their talk was largely reminiscent.

Speaking of business conditions generally, the President said that the attitude of business men seemed to be growing in favor of the Administration's trust program. In all of his correspondence with business men, he added, he heard of no specific objection to the anti-trust program.

The President compared the opposition to the anti-trust bills to the opposition which preceded the passage of the currency bill. He said he conjectured that probably the objections to both bills resulted from the failure of the opponents of the measures to read the bills.

Mr. Morgan listened to the Senate debate for awhile and then motored to the railway station and took a train for New York.

Next week the President will have an informal conference with Henry Ford, the Detroit Manufacturer, who will be entertained at luncheon at the White House. It was said that the President had invited Mr. Ford.

Officials close to the President said Mr. Wilson would take such an opportunity to outline his views to the heads of "big business" in person.

By a series of informal conferences with leaders of industry and finance, of which those with Mr. Morgan and Mr. Ford will be the first, it is the idea to show that the President is approaching the subject with an open mind, willing to hear the views of big business first hand and outline his own views in return.

Another important conference will be held by the President next Wednesday with a delegation of business men representing the Chicago Association of Commerce. In the delegation will be representatives of 6 of the largest business corporations in Chicago, having interests all over the country.

The conference, requested by the Chicago men primarily to discuss anti-trust legislation, was readily granted. The delegation is also expected to confer with Secretary Redfield.

A VERY DESTRUCTIVE
FIRE AT BEECH GROVE

A very destructive fire broke out Thursday night at 11 o'clock at Beech Grove, which probably entailed a loss of $10,000 which is partly covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by Chas. Critzer, a farmer who lives some distance from the town. He aroused the neighbors, who discovered that the Hardwick mill and elevator were ablaze. The fire is thought to have originated in the boiler room of the mill, which had been in operation during the day. About 400 bushels of old wheat stored in the elevator were destroyed. There was about $6,000 insurance on the property.

There were one or two small residences destroyed, as well as the home of Esq. A. S. Higgs, who now lives in Owensboro, which was occupied by J. W. Kennedy's family. The house was worth about $1,000 and carried no insurance.

A house owned by a Mrs. Carlisle was also destroyed with no insurance. Part of the furniture was saved.

The house of E. A. Broadley was saved by good work of the volunteers. Fortunately there was no wind blowing, otherwise the entire town would have been swept by flames.

OLATON.

July 6.—It is still very dry and hot. Corn that has been well cultivated is holding its own and if we get rain in a few days there will be a lot of corn raised in this community. Early potatoes almost a failure. We will have to fall back on navy beans. There is plenty of time yet to plant them. If every farmer would plant a half bushel of beans it would mean many dollars and take the place of potatoes.

William Shrader caught a 44-lb. catfish last week. Who can beat it? He sold it at 15c per pound.

Miss Christine Canan, who has been visiting relatives here for the past three weeks, has returned to her home at Drakesboro.

Walter May, who had been spending the past three months in Illinois, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Lula Hayes, of Depoy, Ky., is visiting Mr. Clem Moxley and family.

Misses Elizabeth and Julia Cunningham, of Louisville, who had been spending a few days with Mr. William Lyons and family, returned home Sunday.

Why can't we have Hon. Ben Johnson give us a talk at Olaton? I am certain the people would enjoy it.

Joseph Chamberlain Dead.

London, July 4.—Joseph Chamberlain, one of the most striking figures in British politics in the last generation, died in his London residence last night at 10:30 o'clock. The cause of his death was officially announced to-day as heart failure. Mr. Chamberlain has been gradually sinking since Tuesday but his family kept his condition from being known to the public.

The announcement of Chamberlain's death cast a shadow over London, as he was not known to be critically ill. His last public appearance was at a garden party at his Birmingham home on May 6.

FATALITIES OF FOURTH
ARE CUT DOWN ONE-HALF

The death losses due to the Fourth of July celebration were increased only by one Saturday. This is unusual in the light of the record of previous years, when the belated Fourth reports of the day after as a rule added from one-half to one-third to the total. However, the methods of reporting the accidents all over the country have improved with the co-operation of American newspapers and a quicker cleanup of the tables has been possible this year. It is not believed that delayed deaths will make the total more than half of the total dead last year, which was reported as 32. Fifteen deaths were reported.

The list of injured also shows a material reduction over last year's figures obtained up to the same hour of the second day. The total injured this year now stands at 811, of which 361 were due to fireworks, 90 to cannon, 145 to firearms, 107 to gunpowder and 108 to toy pistols.

The fire losses are reported at $94,545, also a reduction under last year.

TYPHOID FEVER CAUSES
DEATH OF REV. M. J. COX

The Owensboro Inquirer of Friday says:

Rev. M. J. Cox died of typhoid fever at about 2 o'clock this afternoon after an illness lasting for several days. Mr. Cox was removed from his home at Philpot to the hospital last Sunday.

Rev. Cox was about 39 years old and was a Baptist minister having charge of four churches in this district. Until one year ago, he resided in Owensboro on Todd's avenue.

Rev. Cox was married to Miss Lillian Alexander, of Marshall county, who, with four children, survive him. He also has a brother, Lyman Cox, in the mercantile business at Philpot.

Rev. Cox was a very popular minister, and had a great many friends who will be shocked to learn of his sudden death.

A number of Kentucky Confederate officers, or their heirs, will benefit by the measure which passed the House restoring to them their longivity pay.

DANCER AND PREACHER ENGAGE IN A WRANGLE

In Front of Show Tent—In Court
Preacher Got Worst
Of It.

Somerset, Ky., July 4.—All Somerset is astir. The town is scandalized.

A carnival came here this week, adding to this city's attractions which, for the last few weeks, included Rev. James L. Delk, of Topeka, Kan., a traveling evangelist, who is said also to be a reformed showman.

The carnival company pitched its tents and when its gaudily painted posters were unfurled, behold:

"The Streets of Cairo."
"See Cleopatra, the Beautiful Egyptian Danseuse."

Rev. Mr. Delk was shocked. It is whispered that he had knowledge of oriental dancers, even more than can be obtained by reading the Biblical version of Salome. He started immediately to warn the unsophisticated Kentuckians to beware lest the fate of Eve befall them.

When the ballyhoo took his stand, urging those in the midway to drop a "thin dime and see the wonders of Little Egypt," Rev. Mr. Delk started to preach the gospel opposite.

The Turkish drummer ceased his monotonous beating; the reed pipe escaped the lips of the rest of the band.

The smile died on Cleopatra's painted face. Her dark eyes flashed. She snapped her fingers wrathfully and started a denunciation of the evangelist in her native—well, the language they use on the Barbary Coast (Frisco).

Rev. Mr. Delk continued to warn the Kentuckians of simple faith and Cleopatra descended upon him, pelting the clerical cranium with her umbrella. Two other swarthy artists of the dervish joined her and forced Rev. Mr. Delk to retreat.

Such an outrage upon the dignity of the calling could not pass with impunity and Rev. Mr. Delk sought redress in the courts. The three dancers arrested pleaded guilty of having attacked the parson, and were fined one cent and costs each. Several of the carnival people were placed under peace bonds.

But Rev. Mr. Delk was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail after a jury had found him guilty of a breach of the peace.

HELL FULL OF INFANTS.

SAID PASTOR: IS STONED

Hammond, Ind., July 4.—The Rev. A. H. Sorby, of Nashville, Tenn., sustained a fractured skull when he was attacked last night by a mob of people who disbelieved his statement that "hell is full of infants."

The attack occurred during services. The church was riddled with stones, rotten eggs and bullets. A number of women worshipers were struck by missiles.

After the first fusillade the lights were extinguished and free-for-all fighting began. Sorby was hit on the head with a large stone and picked up unconscious.

Big Blackberry Patch.

Lagrange, Ky., July 6.—Taylor Bros., of this place, who formerly were the largest producers of tomatoes in this section of this county, and whose brand of canned tomatoes was celebrated, now own a blackberry farm of forty acres. The crop is now maturing and is demanding all the help that can be secured.

Considerable speculation is being indulged in here as to how officers will accept the new order of things. They were amazed at the time the order was announced in April.

AMERICAN NAVY DRY... BOOZE GOES INTO SEA

Secretary Daniels' Order Now in Effect and Lid Is Clamped On.

Washington, July 4.—The American navy is dry to-day. Secretary Daniels' order abolishing the "wine mess" for the officers and any form of intoxicants for officers and men has gone into effect.

The order was followed out to the letter according to reports received at the capital. The passing of John Barleycorn was an event of interest, particularly on the ships of the Atlantic fleet in Mexican waters.

At Vera Cruz many farewell parties were held on the big battleships. All made merry while they could.

On some of the vessels there was a supply still on hand. But there was no evasion of orders. When the last stroke of the clock was heard the supply remaining was tossed overboard.

The New Jersey recently gave a smoker and with the aid of 3,000 army and navy men at Vera Cruz exhausted its supply and no new stock was received.

On board the New York on July 4, the first dry smoker was held at which milk, pop, ginger ale and other non-intoxicants were served.

From San Francisco came the story of a wake over the remains of John Barleycorn on the cruiser St. Louis.

The officers gave a dance and all was merry up to midnight. On the stroke of 12, all of the empty bottles on the cruiser were gathered up, placed in a huge coffin and carried below. Then, with great ceremony, interment was made in the hold.

Beginning to-day any officer found in possession of alcoholic liquor on board ship or at any naval station will be guilty of misconduct. Commanding officers will be held directly responsible for the enforcement of the "dry edict."

Considerable speculation is being indulged in here as to how officers will accept the new order of things. They were amazed at the time the order was announced in April.

Secretary Daniels has said that a "reasonable construction" is to be placed on the order. This was taken to mean that if any liquor happened to be on board a vessel on foreign service, including those in Mexican waters, a reasonable time would be given in which to unload it. On all naval reservations and on ships in home waters, however, the lid was on tight to-day.

ONE HUNDRED ARE DEAD
FROM AUTO SPEED MANIA

One hundred dead; two hundred injured—all for speed, in the month of June just closed.

The scores of automobile accidents throughout the United States in the last month were the result, in almost every instance, of high speed. Many deaths occurred at railroad crossings—the drivers of the machines were trying to beat a train to a given point!

Many accidents occurred at curves. Machines skidded, then plunged into gulches along the highway.

Then, too, the innocent pedestrian came in for his share of attention. Children at play were killed. Other persons were tossed against poles and houses.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

GIRL MOWS EIGHT ACRES OF OATS IN ONE DAY

Whitesburg, Ky., July 4.—Seated on a mowing machine, Miss Oma Morgan, the 16-year-old daughter of Jno. P. Morgan, a farmer living near Mayking, cut eight acres of oats in one day recently. Miss Morgan is still a school girl. She handles a mowing machine with rare skill and there are not many men in her section who can cut more grass or grain in a given time. She has acquired her adeptness through experience, as for several years she helped her father in mowing.

HOPEWELL.
July 6.—We have had no rain for two months. Corn is twisting and pastures are dry. Wheat is threshed and was a good yield.

Mrs. J. R. Shull is visiting her sister, Mrs. Hiram Taylor, of Taylortown. She has been sick for some time, but thought the trip would help her some.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Shelby Williams, a fine boy. Mrs. Williams was very ill, but we are glad to say she is improving. Her mother from Morgantown is with her.

Cutting grass is the order of the day but the yield is light.

Mrs. H. King and little son Paul and Miss Jessie Taylor, all of East St. Louis, Ill., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

Mr. Tom Engler's baby died Sunday, the 28th, and was buried at Hopewell Monday. Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. Alex Royster.

FINALLY SUMMONED TO LAST GREAT COURT

George Watson Succumbed To Heart Failure Just As Case Came Up.

Hawesville, Ky., July 6.—Circuit Court was convened here this morning by Judge Birkhead for the last term before late fall. The session will not be a long one. There have been but two actions brought to the Court since the last term adjourned and one of them has been settled.

At the last term of the Court the grand jury was in session but two days, and it is not thought by the court officials that that period will be exceeded at the present term. There are no serious prosecutions awaiting the attention of a grand jury, and except the law requires such a body to be empaneled at stated intervals, there would be no occasion for one at present.

George Watson, nearly 80 years of age, who was under indictment in the Hancock Circuit Court, charged with the murder of John Van Lahr, and whose case was set for trial before Judge Birkhead to-day, was found dead in bed Sunday morning, death being due to heart failure.

The killing of Van Lahr took place over a year ago, at which time Watson was the town marshal of Lewisport. Van Lahr was a tenant on Watson's farm and it was while the murdered man was hauling a load of corn along the county road that he was shot by Watson.

After Watson was indicted for murder, he was allowed by Judge Birkhead, to give bond upon the affidavits of prominent physicians of Hancock county who stated that on account of the state of health of Watson, it would be unwise to have him confined in jail.

The case has been called twice for trial, but both times it was continued on account of the condition of the defendant, who was too ill to undergo a trial. At the last court, Judge Birkhead sent two physicians to the home of Watson to examine into his condition, and both reported that it was such that he was unable to go into a trial.

Before coming to Hawesville, Judge Birkhead had been informed that Watson was making every effort to prepare for a trial, although he was still a sick man. It is thought that Watson had been suffering with tubercular trouble for some time.

There is now pending in the court here a $20,000 damage case against Watson, growing out of the killing of Van Lahr, which was brought by Mrs. Van Lahr.

A RECESS IS NOW TAKEN BY MEXICAN MEDIATORS

Diplomatic Colony Leaves Niagara Falls—Will Probably Meet Again.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 2.—With the departure to-night of Ambassador Gama of Brazil, Minister Naon of Argentina and the American delegates consisting of Justino Lamar, Frederick W. Lehmann and H. Perceval Dodge, diplomatic secretary, the Pan-American mediation conference, convened to find a solution of the Mexican problem, formally ended its sessions here.

Minister Suarez of Chile and the Huerta delegates will leave to-morrow. When and where the next meeting will be held depends for the present upon Gen. Carranza, the Constitutional chief, who is now consulting his subordinate chiefs about sending delegates to a conference with the Huerta delegates for the selection of a new provisional President.

In the meantime mediation has been declared by indefinite recess. Formal notification of the invitation to Carranza to send delegates and his reply was conveyed by the mediators to the American and Huerta commissioners in an identical note to-day. It sets forth that there is no further need of sessions until the Constitutional delegates are appointed. The note declares the international conflict settled and remarks:

"All that is left to be done is to establish and organize a provisional government in Mexico, a patriotic work reserved exclusively to the two Mexican delegates."

The Huerta delegates replied to this communication in separate notes, one expressing appreciation of the efforts of the three mediators in bringing about a settlement of the international conflict and the other addressed indirectly to the Constitutionalists, declaring in polite terms sincere desire to discuss internal affairs with them. This opens the way for direct communication between the Constitutionalists and Huerta delegates.

With a few handshakes and goodbyes, the exchange of cards and the remark "We'll be together again soon," the mediators separated after six weeks of incessant parley.

HUERTA FOR PRESIDENT GOT UNANIMOUS VOTE

Mexico City, July 5.—Elections for President, Deputies and Senators were held to-day in that portion of the republic controlled by the Huerta government. In Mexico City there was an almost complete absence from voting and indifference was manifested everywhere.

Gen. Huerta appeared to be the favorite candidate for the Presidency, and Gen. Blanquet, the present War Minister, for the Vice Presidency.

President Huerta, it is reported, received a virtually unanimous vote of confidence. The returns indicate the re-election of the present members of the Chamber of Deputies and Senate. The lightest vote in many years was cast in the capital and in nearby towns.

THREE STATES PAY HALF GOVERNMENT INCOME TAX

Washington, July 4.—New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois paid more than half of the $71,586,146 turned into the national treasury in income and corporation taxes during the fiscal year just closed. A detailed statement of collections made public recently showed that these three States contributed $37,931,717.

New York State alone paid more than $12,000,000 individual income tax, while the entire amount paid throughout the country was a little more than $28,000,000. Pennsylvania ranked second and Illinois third.

SPARROWS DYED YELLOW AND SOLD AS CANARIES

Indiana, Pa., July 6.—Persons who bought canaries at bargain prices from a stranger here recently are now trying to avoid the ridicule of friends, following the discovery that the canaries are English sparrows dyed yellow.

The stranger, who had a smooth line of talk and a seemingly limitless supply of birds, assured prospective purchasers that he "had come direct from the Canary Islands."

Some of his songsters were from there, he said, and some were Hartz mountain warblers. The fact that the birds were exceedingly quiet did not seem to interfere with the bongo man getting rid of them in large numbers at $1.50 each. Within a few days the color began to come off and the fraud was disclosed.

Must Mark Unused Ballots.

One of the provisions in the new election law is that all ballots unused in any election instead of being burned, as formerly, must be marked by the election officers with a stamp of a certain size and returned to the County Clerk in each county with the stub of the ballot book. Each ballot must be marked by the word "unused" that remains after an election. While this will require a little more work on the part of the election officers than under the old way, it will prevent a great deal of crookedness in elections.

SUSPENDING JUDGMENT STRICTLY AGAINST LAWCourt Of Appeals Says It Is "Beyond Jurisdiction Of Court."

The Bowling Green Messenger says:

A good friend questioned the statement that a judge had no authority to suspend or remit a judgment once entered in his court. "It is a common practice in the inferior courts," he declared. That may be true, but it is contrary to the law just the same, and would probably subject the offending judge to indictment or even impeachment.

There is a long line of decisions touching on this point, but the most recent and most direct is that of Brabandt against the Commonwealth, taken up from Daviess county and the decision rendered January 14 of this year. The opinion was written by Judge Hannah, and the whole court concurred. Briefly, Albert Brabandt was convicted of petty larceny and sentenced to a year in jail. He made a motion for a new trial, which was overruled. The Circuit Judge thereupon entered an order suspending the unsatisfied portion of the judgment on condition of future good conduct. Brabandt was afterward charged with crime, and the Circuit Judge ordered him to be placed back in jail. In this way the case got into the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals is very emphatic in its declaration that the order suspending the judgment was erroneous. On this point, the court says:

"The order suspending the further execution of sentence imposed was not merely erroneous; it was an act beyond and without the jurisdiction of the court, an attempted exercise of a power, not judicial, but wholly executive in its nature."

Laying down the broad principle, the court says:

"THE PRACTICE OF SUSPENDING JUDGMENTS OF COURTS IN MISDEMEANOR CASES IS A FAILURE TO ENFORCE THE LAW; IT ENCOURAGES CRIME AND IS A MENACE TO GOOD GOVERNMENT."

Wheat Field Fires.

Cadiz, Ky., July 3.—Common happenings in this county the past few days have been fires in wheat fields. While burning some logs in an adjoining field on the farm of H. C. Vinson, four miles west of here, the fire got into the wheat field and burned fifty-two shocks of wheat and some fence before it could be stopped. On the farm of John S. Gaines, several miles east of here, sparks from the Cadiz train set fire to a wheat field and 150 shocks were destroyed before it could be stopped.

HE SLEEPS IN A COFFIN THAT HE MADE HIMSELF

Lincoln, Neb., July 3.—Every night in the year E. T. Hunger, formerly chief of police of Lincoln, sleeps in his coffin. The homemade box stands on the front porch of the Hunger residence, at No. 2314 Randolph street, and at night, after the neighbors have gone to bed, "Old Man" Hunger goes out and climbs into the box. If the weather is cold, or if a shower comes up, he pulls the top of the coffin over the opening, leaves a crack through which he can get a little fresh air, and calmly goes to sleep. Mr. Hunger is now 76 years old, and for many years he has been sleeping in his coffin.

"And I made that coffin myself, too," he says proudly. "Costs too much to die in these days. So I just thought I'd play a joke on the undertakers and make my own coffin while I was well enough to do it. Whole thing cost me less than $5, but it's strong enough to hold a man about my size without any trouble. And won't those undertakers be mad when I die and they can't get any of my money?"

The Hunger home sits back from the street and there are trees all around it. In the summer these trees shade the porch and the grotto object cannot be seen plainly. But when winter strips the limbs and branches Mr. Hunger's homemade coffin can be seen by all passersby. The fact that he sleeps in his coffin every night is a fact known to few others than his neighbors and close friends.

"Hope I'll die some night right in that coffin," says the ex-chief of police. "My family know just what I want done. I want them to nail that lid on just as quickly as they know I'm dead, and then haul me out to the cemetery; don't want any of those undertakers holding me up for a big bill of funeral expenses. No, sir; what's good enough for me to sleep in is good enough for me to be buried in."

A man isn't necessarily in the pink of condition just because his nose happens to emphasize that tint.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repel disease germs, and this is why a relapse is often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

COMBINATION AGAINST WILSON IS OF NO AVAIL
Republican and Progressive Parties Have Poor Chance To Amalgamate.

Halfway between Presidential campaigns, the Republican party is without a candidate or an issue, and the Progressives have a candidate and an issue, but no party. There is an old tale of a man who could not walk, who climbed upon the shoulders of a man who could not see, and one furnishing the motive power, and the other the power of direction, the two cripples reached their destination. Naturally, some of the Republicans and Progressives are now hoping to mount the far-seeing Roosevelt upon the shoulders of the blind Republican party, and so beat Mr. Wilson in the next race.

We don't believe the combination will prove as successful as the combination of the lame man and the blind in the fable. It is easy enough for politicians to frame a terrible indictment against the Democratic Administration to-day, but will it look like a true bill two years hence? The new tariff has not flooded the country with foreign goods, and when the railroads get the freight advance they ask for, or begin to feel the stimulus of the huge crops, they will buy freely, and the very moderate dullness of the present moment will be forgotten.

Two years hence the country will have had two years' experience with a banking system as much superior to what preceded it as the national bank system of half a century ago was. Perfect amity will have been restored to our Columbian relations, and the very large part of the American people who do not approve of Mr. Roosevelt's Panama conduct will feel that an unpleasant spot has been erased from the nation's fame. The present indications are that in 1916 Mexico will be peaceful and prosperous, the peons having access to the land, and the general Government representing public opinion instead of a combination of military despotism and financial monopoly. The great trusts in our own country will have been disintegrated, with the result of increasing the prosperity of their component parts, and of the country at large, and of opening the gates to widespread and healthful competition.

What will a Republican-Progressive combination avail against such a record?—[Philadelphia Record.]

WHAT HARTFORD PEOPLE SEEK

Found By a Hartford Man, Who Tells His Experience.

What the anxious sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble seeks is not temporary relief—though that would be welcome enough; what is sought for is a lasting effect. Mr. King, of Hartford, tells us here how he has found lasting good from Doan's Kidney Pills after long suffering.

S. L. King, proprietor Hardware store, Hartford, Ky., says: "I had pains across my back and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly helped me. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly to anyone in need of a medicine for disordered kidneys."

Mr. King is only one of many Hartford people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. King had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Monday we began our Seventh Celebration Sale to fittingly commemorate the period of our occupancy of this building, and we have every reason to believe it will eclipse anything of its kind ever held in Louisville.

This store, which has for over sixty years been known as the South's leading department store, was forced to seek more commodious quarters, owing to such a largely increased business. As a result we now possess one of the most representative plants in the United States, containing, as it does, nearly seventy complete departments, and being a part of the greatest buying organization in this country.

We have spent many weeks in preparing for this event in order to make it supreme in point of magnitude, varieties and values involved, and we now have ready for you the most tempting of offerings in seasonable merchandise.

PARCEL POST

We prepay by parcel post all parcels that come within the postal regulations, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, to all points in the first, second and third zones, from Louisville. When ordering give rural route number.

THIS SALE CAN SUPPLY YOUR EVERY NEED AT A SAVING

The scope of this sale is so large that it is intended to supply everyone's needs at a saving, whether that need be for the most inexpensive of merchandise, or for the handsomest procurable. You should make it a point to attend as frequently as possible. Extra salespeople will be on hand to serve you.
